

BLOOD SPORTS ILLUSTRATED

Volume 1, Issue 1

Welcome sports fans. This is the premier issue of Blood Sports Illustrated. This magazine will set out to do a few things for our illustrious Dragon Bowl League. We will at first be bringing you the results of the past week's matches with a slight commentary where appropriate by Sylus Hopscotch himself. We will also bring you some of our favorite's highlights of the week curtsey of Cabalvision. Our good friend Maurice the Ogre of Maurice's Ogre Bar and Octok ring will also bring you our predictions of the outcomes of the matches to come. For those gamblers among you we do not recommend our prediction efforts for basing your betting choices upon. We also claim no responsibility and are in no way linked to Johnny's fine establishment. Our forth section of the magazine will be our Apothecary Tent. The tent will detail which players have been seriously injured and miss their next matches and also detail the tragic and yet violently satisfying deaths that happen on or off the pitch. When this magazine goes to press the season will have just started. Therefore we will not be able to bring you our Results, Highlight Reel or Apothecary Tent. We will though supply you with Maurice's Predictions of the week. We hope you enjoy our magazine and don't forget support our sponsors.

Maurice's Predictions

A Division

Paladins vs Hunt: Danderlion eaters never can tell those buggers are so fast I say Paladins.

Barnacles vs Mates: Both are tough teams but those Skinks might be a little slippery for those sailors. I say Barnacles.

Flesh vs Bonestealers: I'd 'ave to say after coming off a big victory like the Dragon Bowl I figure the Bonestealers 'ave got a lot O'steam. I say Bonestealers.

Steins vs Drakkar: Well their last match up was a doozy. I think the Drakkar want revenge. I say Drakkar.

Surly vs Killers: This match could go either way. One thing is for sure lots O'blood. I say a draw. I don't think they will remember there is a ball on the field. Hee Hee

Machine vs Blighters: Whatever happens this one will 'ave some high scores. The Machine is a little meaner and leaner though. I say Machine.

B Division

Videos vs Harem: Danderloin eater's vs chicks? I don't know who is gunna worry about more about their hair? (flip a coin) I say Harem

Smashers vs Boozzhounds: Smashers are coming off a slump and Boozzhounds have only ever won one game. If they can squash those Skinks. I say Boozzhounds.

Dicers vs Sharks: Very violent match up. The last Orc/Chaos match up saw six casualties on both sides (Boozzhounds vs Killers) I say a draw.

Babes vs Flamboyants: Babes 'ave just come off their first victory ever. I think they have steam but those Skaven are too damn fast. I say Flamboyants.

Midgets vs Howlers : Veteran coach Blarg bringing out his Boyz. Dwarves are made of stone hmmm. I say Howlers.

Divas vs Bloods : Another chicks vs danderloin eaters. (shake of head) Elves are good to crunch and girls shouldn't play the game. I say Bloods.

C Division

Cadavers vs Desir: Well Undead are always difficult opponents. Those mushroom eaters 'ave their work cut out for them. I say Cadavers.

Sonics vs Flicks: I think those danderlion eaters will be able to just step on the heads of those Gobbos and run the ball into the end Zone. I say Sonics

Dervishes vs Zone: This will be an important one for the 'flings surviving an Undead match is hard even for the tougher teams. I say Dervishes (just for spite)

Spermosaurs vs Shorty: If Shorty hire that new Minotaur that has been rumored about the mushroom eaters might need to pray to Nuffle not to get squished. I say Shorty.

March vs Inaccurate : Men vs Orc are always close ones. I think the march 'ave the advantage though. I say March.

Editors Note: Maurice's opinions are not the opinions of all the staff at Blood Sports Illustrated.
